

ACSM Bulletin

No. 229, October 2007

Editorial: Wired. Ilse Genovese. 6.

Datums and map projections. Book advance notice. 9

50 Years of Exploration: What Sputnik launched. Charles Krauthammer. 10-11.

Fragile planet. Philip Kennicott. 11-12.

Cartographers assemble in Moscow for international meeting. ICC Report. Jean McKendry. 13-15.

Geoweb: The world on your desktop. From The Economist online. 16-18.

Place, context, and romance. Michael Jones. 19-23.

Ask Dr. Map: Kid's stuff. A Dr. Map column. 24-25.

Principles of geospatial surveying. Book advance notice. 26.

Georeferencing surveys for spatial integration with an enterprise GIS. Robert Jones. 27-28.

LSU: From disaster prone to disaster prepared. Joanne Castagna. 29-30.

NCEES names Southern Zone Vice President. 36.

Advocacy: ACSM-JGAC semi-annual report. Laurence Socci. 31-34.

Ask Vic! A column by Victor O'Schinnerer. 35.

Management: Aiming for success—#2. Richard A. Smith. 37-38.

NCEES report: Dancing with the stars in Philly. Curt Sumner. 39.

ALTA/ACSM land Title Survey Corner: Professional liability. Gary Kent. 40.

"The Earth itself needs an advocate—": Rachel Carson. By David Fahrenthold. 41-42.

Hot prognostication. Ilse Genovese. 44-46.